1.	XXXV International School on the Physics of Semiconducting Compounds "Jaszowiec 2006"	17 – 23 June, 2006 Ustroń - Jaszowiec	The "Jaszowiec" spring meetings have become, in Poland, through many years of evolution, the traditional place of annual review of current achievements in semiconductor physics. A general overview is provided in several morning lectures, while original contributions of the participants are presented as oral or poster presentations during evening sessions. Remote location of the meeting, the timing of the program schedule, and the living conditions create a pleasant one-week workshop atmosphere.	Accepting of applications has been concluded  8 applications from Czech, 1 from Slovakia and 2 from Hungary have been submitted	Dr. Agata Kaminska Institute of Physics, Polish Academy of Sciences Al.
